Parts are Parts

Part No. 501-000032

Description: WBA Calibration Paper

Usage: This paper is used to calibrate the optical sensors in the WBA units. It is manufactured with specific reflective and opaque characteristics that permit the red and infrared sensors to auto-adjust to the proper calibration level.

Note: This part has been manufactured with and without holes in the past. The holes have no practical use, they were used for identification. In 2000, JCM started placing a small WBA label on the black paper part to allow easy identification. Handle this paper on the black side only, and do not use it if it is creased, torn, or dirty.

Customer Notifications/Tech Tips

Question: What does the Serial Number on my JCM unit mean?

Answer: The Serial Number on your JCM unit is used by JCM to track the manufacturing date of the unit. JCM used a 9 digit numbering format until the year 2000. All units manufactured during the year 2001 and later have a 10 digit numbering format.

Year 1990 – 2000 Example

Serial No. 907054091

The underlined numbers, 907, indicates the unit was manufactured in the 9th year (1999) and the 07th month (July).

Year 2001 and later Example

Serial No. 0112574695

The underlined numbers, 0112, indicate the unit was manufactured in the 01 year (2001) and the 12th month (December)

All JCM products carry a minimum one year warranty from the date of manufacture. Use the above information to determine if your product is still under warranty, and how long is left on the warranty period.
