Part No. 550-100035

Description: Power Supply, 15 Watt

Usage: This power supply is used with the IGT DBV-200 product line.

Note: During the upgrade from a DBV-145 to a DBV-200, the 5 or 10 watt power supply must also be upgraded to 15 watts, or the operator may experience several different error conditions that prevent proper initialization or operation. You can tell the difference between the 5/10 power supply and the 15 watt power supply by the air vents on the exterior of the black case. The 5/10 watt power supply has a solid case, the 15 watt has 4 sets of air vents in the cover.

Customer Notifications/Tech Tips

Product: DBV-200 units

Occurance: Rare

Mandatory upgrade: None required

Issue: During the manufacturing process, the DBV-200 units' optical lenses are compression-fitted in place. It is possible for the lenses to be displaced during cleaning or clearing a bill jam. This displacement would cause the following condition:

Error conditions 7 and 14 will increase because the lens functions as a prism. As the sensor light passes through the lens, it is partially refracted, causing improper passage.

Resolution: The lenses can be pushed back into proper positions by disassembling the DBV-200 head and resetting the lenses. The procedure will take approximately 3 minutes for the top shelf lenses, and approximately 10 minutes for the bottom shelf lenses.
