JCM Global Receives Manufacturer's License in West Virginia

New gaming license is the third U.S. license in the last two months

LAS VEGAS (December 16, 2024) – JCM Global® (JCM) has successfully passed regulatory review and received a manufacturer's license from the West Virginia Lottery Commission. The license enables JCM to directly sell and service to customers throughout the state.

JCM has been actively expanding its gaming licenses, and this new license in West Virginia is the latest the company received in the last several months. Previously, JCM announced it attained licenses in Colorado and New Mexico, bringing the company's total number of active gaming licenses to 177.

JCM SVP – Sales, Marketing & Operations Dave Kubajak said, "At JCM, we are committed to our customers. While attaining licensing was not required, we pursued it because it allows us to directly provide JCM's leading technology and advanced systems, backed by our world-class service, and support, resulting in faster service times and simplifying the entire relationship between JCM and our customers."

In West Virginia, JCM provides its innovative technology, including the award-winning iVIZION® bill validator; ICB® Intelligent Cash Box System, which boost security and efficiencies across the gaming floor; and the GEN5® thermal printer, which delivers TITO, personalized promotions, and rewards directly to the player for an enhanced gaming experience.
